Retired Officers

The Trustees of the Police Rehabilitation Centre, Flint House, have made the decision that a charge will be levied on retired police officers who fit the criteria for admission from 1st January 2016. The rationale behind this decision is that the Rehabilitation Centre is experiencing a sustained decline in funding and the ability to continue to provide the first class service currently enjoyed is under threat. By introducing the charge it is hoped that this will firstly raise revenue. In the event that we find that the rooms currently allocated to retired officers are not being fully occupied then this would give the Trustees the opportunity to maximise their use by either raising revenue from outside sources or potentially reducing our bed capacity in order to reduce service costs.
